Digital Learning Guide

2020-21 Parent Resource

“Historically, pandemics have forced humans to break with the past and imagine their world anew. This one is no different. It is a portal, a gateway between one world and the next. We can choose to walk through it, dragging the carcasses of our prejudice and hatred, our avarice, our data banks and dead ideas, our dead rivers and smoky skies behind us. Or we can walk through lightly, with little luggage, ready to imagine another world. And ready to fight for it.”

~ Arundhati Roy, “The Pandemic is a Portal,” Financial Times, 4/03/2020

Introduction

In Shelby County Schools, our mission is to ensure that all students are successful as they engage in high-quality, standards-aligned academic experiences that will prepare them for college and career. We are committed to our mission, even when exceptional circumstances prevent students from physically attending school. In order to fulfil our commitment to our students through our mission, we have developed the Digital Learning Guide. We recognize that nothing can compare to an onsite experience with teachers and students, but we believe it is possible to deliver powerful instruction in a flexible instructional model in an online environment in times of need. We also believe that engaging parents to build their confidence to support at-home learning is crucial to student success. We will provide initial training and support to parents as well as ensure on-demand and on-going support are readily available.

This document pulls together information and resources from several teams, departments, web pages, and presentations to give our families a “one stop shop” for how to proceed when learning takes place outside of the school buildings.

This document includes information on the roles for students, teachers, and families in remote learning, recommended time on task by subject area for each grade band (elementary, middle, and high school), digital resources, and details on device distribution, attendance during remote learning, and professional learning opportunities for families.

We hope the information in this document will provide a sense of security and stability when students are unable to physically attend school due to district closures.

Instructional Model for Content Delivery

2020-21 Hybrid Learning Model

Guaranteeing instructional continuity means that Shelby County Schools' students and families can count on high quality instruction driven by students' needs regardless of the circumstances our community may find itself. A large part of providing consistent instructional experiences requires a delivery system that is flexible enough to respond to all situations. The flexible delivery system must create learning conditions that spark student engagement and accelerate student performance. While nothing can replicate the onsite learning experience, our framework enables our teachers to provide dynamic, multifaceted student and teacher interactions that we believe will allow all students to meet their educational goals.

Model 1: Digital Synchronous (Learning together online)

- Students learn simultaneously with peers online via Microsoft Teams or Learning Management System (LMS); Teachers support student learning during shared online experiences
- Students must have or be provided technology access with a sufficient data plan; and families must be able to support a set schedule of online classes/learning experiences
- Teachers must be trained in how to lead online learning experiences and have access to digital materials

Model 2: Analog Synchronous (Learning together on the phone)

- Students engage in learning using printed materials and guidance; Students interact with teachers and peers on the phone to engage in learning
- Students must have or be provided access to a phone; and families must be able to support the learning taking place
- Teachers must provide thoughtful learning experiences and be supported in managing group or individual calls to support learning

Model 3: Digital Asynchronous (Learn online independently)

- Students learn independently online using a program or LMS; Students receive teacher feedback and support via email or LMS
- Students must have or be provided technology access with a sufficient data plan; families are provided more flexibility in scheduling
- Teachers must be provided training in setting up online learning experiences for students, support with managing work submissions & feedback online, and have access to digital materials

Module 4: Analog Asynchronous (Learn offline independently)

- Students independently engage in learning using printed materials and guidance; Students receive written feedback from teachers
- Students and families manage learning experience, including completion of work and student questions while working; families are provided more flexibility in scheduling
- Teachers must provide thoughtful learning experiences; avoid hours of packet work/worksheets; and provide written feedback for students

Model 5: Hybrid of Digital, Analog, Synchronous, and Asynchronous Learning: Students learn online together and work offline independently.

These models will serve as the framework for flexible delivery for instruction. Because the age of the student and the nature of the subject/course/content play a role in choosing the most effective type of instructional delivery, SCS teachers will use a combination of models found within the framework to ensure the instructional experience matches the needs of the student. Per State Guidance, synchronous instruction should be the principal form of learning for elementary students, while older general education students can handle a true hybrid model of instruction. Though flexibility is key in providing the best experience for each student, three requirements are non-negotiable across all models:

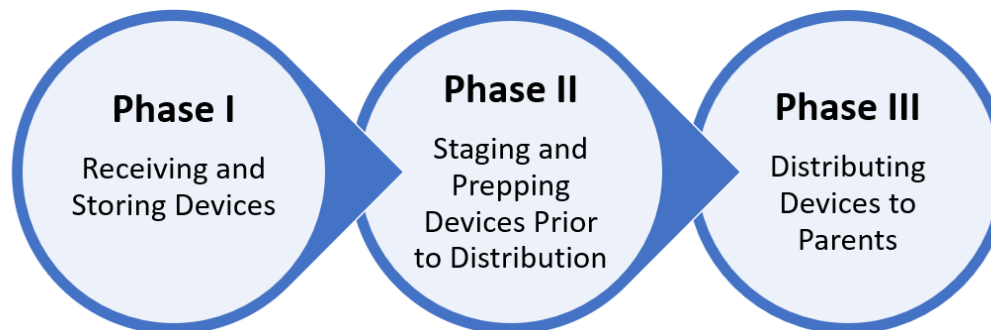

- ✓ Careful planning by educators
- ✓ Student motivation and engagement
- ✓ Strong family support

Each school will have a daily virtual learning schedule to ensure everyone is familiar with the expectations for students, parents and teachers.

Distribution & Internet Access

To ensure a safe parent experience, each school administration team will coordinate with security, risk management, and Student Health to ensure CDC recommendations are met. Prior to distribution, devices will be sanitized in accordance with CDC guidelines. The school technology support team will develop a plan to safely interact with each parent to deliver the device and will provide hotspots to those with demonstrated need. The team will plan for extended hours and days to accommodate parent schedules. The school technology support team will provide FAQs and step sheets for parents to reference for at-home support. The Educational Technology team will provide on-going training to parents to ensure parents have a strong knowledge base to support students at home. More details, including the pickup schedule can be found online: <http://www.scsk12.org/accessforall/studentdevices>

Devices will be delivered in three cycles beginning in August based on vendor delivery dates. The distribution plan to parents and students has three phases:

Requirements for Device Pickup:

- Only the parent/guardian listed in PowerSchool may receive a device for the student.
- Parents/guardians must have a photo ID at the time of pickup.

Families with students at multiple schools may submit a request online August 3 - 14 to pick up devices for all students at one time. Please note, devices will be available for most grades sooner by picking them up individually. Multi-device pick-up will be scheduled the week of August 23-28, and families will receive communication in advance about their designated pick-up date and location.

Supporting Student & Family Health & Safety

School Counseling Services | Social and Emotional Learning

School Counselors serve as the primary point of contact in identifying and addressing students social-emotional developmental needs at the school. Social and emotional development is defined as a student’s ability to manage his or her own feelings and behavior, understand the feelings of others, get along with other students, and build relationships with adults. School Counselors use the Tennessee School Counseling Social-Emotional Standards to help students learn, explore and manage emotions, and apply interpersonal skills. Also, they collaborate with Teachers to promote the five SEL Core-Competencies (Self-Awareness, Social Awareness, Relationship Skills, Self-Management, and Responsible Decision-Making) to enhance the learning process and create a culture of college and career readiness for all students in the area of social-emotional development.

Digital Learning Road to Success

As we embark upon our new journey into Digital Learning, many terms are being shared related to digital devices and instruction. The Shelby County Schools Board of Education Policy #5007 (the revised 2020 version will be posted once finalized) refers to Digital Learning Opportunity as “Instructional and educational activities requiring a combination of technology, digital content and instruction that is presented in a traditional classroom and/or non-traditional environment.” Digital learning opportunities may include remote learning, hybrid learning, online learning, and virtual learning. The two main forms of learning that we will focus on this year are remote learning and hybrid learning, both defined below. Page 2 of this document further defines our instructional model for delivering digital learning.

Remote Learning	An instructional and educational approach that is teacher led and utilizes electronic technologies (e.g. discussion boards and video conferencing) when the teacher and/or student are not physically present in a traditional classroom environment.
Hybrid Learning	An instructional and educational approach that integrates at-school (face-to-face) and remote learning.

It is vitally important that we continue to communicate and prepare all stakeholders involved in educating our students. The next few pages outline what each stakeholder’s role should be in this process along with goals for digital learning this year.

Supporting English Learners

Accommodations, Modifications, and Support

Refer to Individualized Learning Plans (ILPs) for English Learners (ELs) when determining the time on task, modifications, accommodations, related services, and other educational supports.

- ELs with more than one WIDA ACCESS domain score below 3.5 shall receive five hours per week of direct ESL service from an ESL teacher. In K-5, the hours per week can be accomplished by having the ESL teacher in the same TEAMS room as the ELA teacher providing support. For Middle and High Schools ELs who require 5 hours of weekly service, ESL may replace ELA/Language Arts writing.
- Students scoring 3.5 or above on WIDA ACCESS composite, reading, writing, and one (1) other domain on the WIDA ACCESS and ELs in kindergarten scoring between 20 and 27 on all domains of the W-APT may have services tailored to their needs including fewer hours of ESL direct instruction based on their ILP, skills-based interventions, and other services that are differentiated for each EL.
- Note: Remote screening of NELB students will take place to identify provisional ESL services, until official W-APT/ WIDA Screener is administered upon return to schools. Parents will be notified via email (or U.S. mail) of their child's EL status.

K-12 Parent Training

As Shelby County Schools moves towards a 1:1 digital learning environment (one-device-per learner) where devices are used to provide access and customized learning options, keeping our parents informed is a top priority. Our Educational Technology team has developed a series of parent sessions that will be offered as on-line live events. The links to attend and access will be available on the SCS website here: <http://www.scsk12.org/instructionalresources/teams>

Closed captioning will be provided in Spanish and Arabic for all courses. The District will work with parents to offer a variety of training opportunities to ensure that parents:

1. Understand the instructional approach that aims to customize learning for each student's strengths, needs, skills, and interests
2. Understand how to support students to use devices to access learning opportunities
