Writing Prompt ...

Raising Money

Our class has been studying native trees this year. We are learning so much about how important trees are to the health of our planet. Yesterday, our teacher told us about a nearby arboretum. An arboretum is like a tree museum. Many different kinds of trees are planted there. Our class was very excited to go there on a field trip.

There was a problem, however. This field trip would cost a lot of money, and our teacher was not sure how to pay for it. Parents had already donated money for field trips. We needed to cover the cost of the bus and the tickets. Our class decided to brainstorm ideas. We wondered how we might earn enough money.

We made a list of ideas. Then we voted on our ideas to see which would be the most popular. A read-a-thon won by a landslide! Kids were excited about this plan. We talked about all the details. We decided on a day. We also designed a sign-up sheet. Each student shared it with friends and family. People would pay us based on how many pages we read. We would even wear pajamas to school on that day. That way, we could read and be comfortable. It sounded like so much fun!

I took my job very seriously. I passed my sign-up sheet to everyone I knew. I wanted to raise as much money as possible because I really wanted to see the trees at the arboretum. I got twenty-five signatures. I think I raised a lot of money.

The day of the read-a-thon finally came. We all wore our pajamas. We read for a few hours in a row. I got a little bit tired, but it was a fun way to earn money. At the end of the day, my teacher made the big announcement. We had earned enough for our trip! What a great fundraiser!
